Dr. Fox Proving His Venom Cure Is Bitten Five Times by Deadly Reptile.

CALCUTTA, British India, Feb. 28. -Dr. Frederick Fox, an Australian atlet, who had devoted his life to the treatment of snake bites, died tolay as the result of a bite from a make which he was using for experimedial purposes.

Dr. Fox fell a victim while he was estimpting to prove the efficacy of what he had claimed was a sure antiiste to the virus of the snake. He and just finished treating a goat which had been bitten, and he had succeeded a saving its life when he was atted by a deadly kraft snake, which Har to British India.

mond rings and pins were found in Meyer's pockets. "You are a brave woman and are to be congratulated," said Magistrate Barlow.

"Pshaw," said Mrs. Prowte, "It does not take much bravery to hold on to a man who has taken your money and jewelry. I just couldn't let him get away, that's all."

Congratulated by Magistrate, She Says She Simply Couldn't

Let Go.

Mrs. J. W. Prowte, a frail woman, stood before Magistrate Barlow in Yorkville Court to-day as the accuser of Henry Meyer, charged with burglary after he had been caught by her afforts in the dining room of her home at No. 970 Lexington avenue.

Mrs. Prowte came on Meyer packing away her jewelry and a pocketbook in his pockets.

She leaped on his back, and was whirled about and bumped and pounded over Meyer's shoulder until her husband ran in from the kitchen and overpowered the man. The mency, $130, and $500 worth of diameted a triple of the week without knowing it until 4 o'clock the next afternoon.

"It was like this," she explained.

"We rehearsed till 2 o'clock Monday morning and after the two performs ances I was so dead tired that I slept right through the morning and after noon editions. To be perfectly honest, I wasn't very keen on seeing the newspapers. I know I can sing, for I've managed to get through 'Louise,' 'Manon' and 'Romeo and Juliet' in Paris, but this was my first experionce in musical comedy, and as I had never appeared here I had my doubts as to whether New York would like me. I hoped I might slide through somehow, that was all, and when my mother called me on the phone after Monday night's performance and ball very well.' I was satisfied. But when I read the notices I could hardly believe my eyes."

Those eyes left me speechless for a moment. Then stern duty brought me back to her name. You may be interested to know it was wished on her.
